ABOUT US

HIMREST is a forward-thinking firm committed to pushing the boundaries of research and manufacturing. Our headquarters are in Moscow, a well-known hub for research and innovation aimed at advancing numerous industrial industries. We have a straightforward goal: to implement its technological and scientific advancements in production and sales. Our team of outstanding researchers are always pushing the envelope and seeking novel solutions to complex issues. Since its founding in 1993, HIMREST has collaborated with top research institutions for 30 years, which is a major factor in why we are currently the top company for innovation. Our mission is to combine business, research, and education to find solutions to your challenges.
